UNDERSTAND HUMAN BEHAVIOUR

This course will give you an understanding of the psychology of human behaviour and is an asset to any profession involving an interaction with other people.

BROAD RANGE OF SKILLS

The course will equip you with a broad range of skills and experiences that will not only help you to understand other people but give you an insight into your own life and motivations.

REAL WORLD CONTEXT

It will enable you to understand the role of psychology in a real world, applied context giving you the skills necessary to gain meaningful employment.

WHY CHOOSE THIS COURSE?

An understanding of psychology and human behaviour is an asset to any profession, as most jobs involve interaction with other people. Designed to equip students with a broad range of skills and experiences that may lead into teaching, health, social care or business, the course will help to develop subject-specific and employment-related skills. Exploring the historical, methodological and theoretical bases of the discipline, students will develop an understanding of psychology in an applied content.

Encouraged to work more independently and cooperatively within small groups, lab reports, essays, presentations, posters and applied reports will be produced with a focus on chosen specialist areas.
